Cream Cake.

2 cups powdered sugar.
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cupful butter.
 4 eggs.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cupful milk.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful soda.
 1 teaspoonful cream-tartar.
 3 cups flour.
 Bake in thin layers as for jelly-cake, and spread between them the following mixture:

$\frac{1}{2}$ pint of milk.
 2 small teaspoonfuls corn-starch.
 1 egg.
 1 teaspoonful vanilla.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar.

Heat the milk to boiling, and stir in the corn-starch wet with a little cold milk: take out a little and mix gradually with the beaten egg and sugar; return to the rest of the custard, and boil, stirring constantly until quite thick. Let it cool before you season, and spread on cake. Season the icing also with vanilla.

Baked Plum Pudding.

$1\frac{1}{2}$ lb of flour.
 1 lb raisins seeded, cut in two, and dredged with flour.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ lb suet, freed from strings and powdered.
 1 cup sugar.
 2 oz. citron, shred fine.
 5 eggs—whites and yolks beaten separately.

Nutmeg, cinnamon, and cloves—on teaspoonful each.

Milk to make a thick batter of the flour. Begin with two cups, and add more if necessary.

Beat the yolks and sugar together; add the suet and spice, then flour, moistening the mixture gradually with milk until you can move the spoon in it. Dredge the fruit and put in by degrees; finally stir in the beaten whites. Beat all very hard and long before baking in a buttered mould. It will require at least an hour and a half in a moderate oven.

Turn out, and eat with rich sweet sauce.

Pine Nut Cake.

2 cups sugar.
 1 cup butter.
 3 cups flour.
 1 cup cold water.
 4 eggs.
 1 teaspoonful soda.
 2 teaspoonfuls cream-tartar.
 2 cupfuls of white walnuts, carefully picked out and added last of all.

French Cake.

1 pound sugar.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ pound butter.
 1 lb currants, wash clean and dredged with flour.
 3 cups flour.
 4 eggs.
 Nutmeg and cinnamon to taste.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful soda dissolved in three tablespoonfuls milk.

ALL sorts of glass vessels and other utensils may be purified from long retained smells of every kind in the easiest and most perfect manner by rinsing them out well with charcoal powder, after the grosser impurities have been scoured off with sand and potash. Rubbing the teeth with fine charcoal powder and then washing out the mouth will render the teeth beautifully white and the breath perfectly sweet, where an offensive breath has been owing to a scorbutic disposition of the gums. Putrid water is immediately deprived of its bad smell by charcoal. When meat, fish, etc., from intense heat or long keeping are likely to pass into a state of corruption, a simple and easy mode of keeping them sound and healthful is to put a few pieces of charcoal, about the size of an egg, into the pot or saucepan wherein the flesh or fish is to be boiled.

VEAL CAKE.—This is a very pretty, tasty dish for supper or breakfast, and uses up any cold veal you do not care to mince. Take away the brown outside of cold roast veal, and cut the white meat into thin slices. Have also a few thin slices of cold ham, and two hard-boiled eggs, which also slice, and two dessert-spoonfuls of finely-chopped parsley. Take an earthenware mould, and lay veal, ham, eggs, and parsley, in alternate layers, with a little pepper between each, and a sprinkling of lemon on the veal. When the mould seems full, fill up with a strong stock, and bake for half an hour. Turn out when cold. If a proper shape be not at hand, use a pie-dish. When turned out, garnish with a few sprigs of parsley.

PLUM PUDDING.—The day before you wish to use this pudding, stone and chop fine one pound of raisins; wash in warm water one pound of currants, pick and dry them, and chop half a pound of beef-suet. Next morning soak a pound loaf of bread in a pint of warm, sweet milk; beat it fine; add to it the raisins, suet, and currants, with three eggs, well beaten, a grated nutmeg, a tablespoonful of sugar, and a wine-glass of brandy. Put it in a floured bag or pudding-mould, and boil it six hours. When done, serve with brandy sauce.

SCOTCH BROTH. Take four pounds of mutton—part of the leg is best; add one gallon water, one teacupful of pearl barley, two carrots sliced, two turnips sliced, two onions cut small, three carrots grated, the white part of a large cabbage chopped very small, and a small quantity of parsley. Season with pepper and salt. Let this boil very gently for three hours and a half, and at the dinner table it will, most likely, by all who are fond of soups, be pronounced excellent.

Many persons in preparing potatoes for cooking pare off a thick slice from the surface instead of digging out the eyes. The skinning process is all wrong, as the strength of the vegetable lies near the surface—the starch growing most abundant as the center is approximated. The best way is to scour them well and either bake or boil them with their skins on.

FEATHERCAKE.—Take two cupfuls of sugar, three eggs, one-half cupful of butter, two-thirds cupful sweet milk, three cupfuls of flour, two heaping teaspoonfuls of baking-powder, flavor with lemon. This is excellent.

FRIED CAKES.—Two cupfuls sour cream, two cupfuls sour milk, four eggs, one teaspoonful cinnamon, two teaspoonfuls soda, one cupful sugar.

HOMINY CROQUETTES.—To a cupful of cold boiled hominy, add a teaspoonful of melted butter, and stir it well, adding by degrees a cupful of milk, till all is made into a soft light paste; add a teaspoon white sugar, and one well beaten egg. Roll into oval balls with floured hands; dip in beaten egg, then roll cracker crumbs, and fry in hot lard.

A HINT FOR THE LAUNDRY.—A tablespoonful of black pepper put in the first water in which gray and buff linens are washed will keep the colors of black or colored cambrics or muslins from running, and does not harden the water. A little gum arabic imparts a gloss to ordinary starch.

CUTTING GLASS.—To cut a bottle in two, turn it as evenly as possible over a gaslight flame for about ten minutes. Then dip steadily in water, and the sudden cooling will cause a regular crack to encircle the side at the heated place, allowing the portions to be easily separated.

COTTAGE PIE.—In the bottom of the pie-dish put a good layer of nicely minced mutton or beef, season to taste, add an onion chopped fine, cover with mashed potatoes, and bake in a sharp oven half an hour, or until the potatoes are well browned.

COCOANUT CAKE.—One cup butter; two and a half cups sugar, level; three and three-quarter cups sifted flour, level; two cups grated cocoanut; whites of fifteen eggs; one level teaspoonful of soda; two level teaspoonfuls cream tartar. If properly made this cake is splendid.

TO CURE A COLD.—Eat absolutely nothing after breakfast, during the day, and at night, just before retiring, heat the feet thoroughly hot at the fire, and drink copiously of hot herb tea the last thing. Catnip is best, though any domestic herb is good.

CRULLERS.—Four eggs; six tablespoonfuls sugar (heaping); one and a half teaspoonfuls butter; flour enough to make a soft dough; one teaspoonful yeast powder. Roll out rather thin, cut into small cakes and fry.

CEMENT.—Diamond cement, for glass or china, is nothing more than isinglass boiled in water to the consistency of cream, with a small portion of rectified spirits added. It must be warmed when used.

GOOD GINGERBREAD WITHOUT EGGS.—One cupful molasses, one small cupful shortening, one-half cupful cold water, one large teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful ginger.

BAKING-POWDER BISCUIT.—Six cupfuls flour, three cupfuls milk, three teaspoonfuls baking-powder, one-half cupful lard.

FOR CORNS.—To cure corns, lay a piece of raw fat pork on them. The corns will disappear in a few days.

FOR CHAPPING.—To cure chapped hands, rub cold cream on them on going to bed.

SPONGE CAKE.—One pint flour; one pound sugar; ten eggs.

CURRENT JELLY.—Put a six-quart pan of berries on the stove, covered, add a little warm water to start them; put a pan of white sugar in the oven, keep there until it melts; after the fruit has boiled a few minutes turn out a jelly-bag, take out the sugar, measure both quantities pint for pint of each; stir together while boiling hot, pour into the moulds or glasses and the deed is done. Jelly beautiful in color, firmly set and delicious in flavor.

ORANGE JELLY CAKE.—Juice and rind of two oranges, thickened with powdered sugar, stir in one package desiccated cocoanut, leaving enough to sprinkle top layer; four eggs, half two cups sugar, one cup flour enough to make the jelly cake, spread cocoanut on top layer.

MOLASSES CAKE.—Three cups molasses, one cup sugar, one and a-half cups milk or milk and water, one cup lard and butter—or corned beef drippings is better—three eggs, one tablespoonful of soda; spice with ginger and cinnamon to suit the taste; flour to make as thick as pound cakes; fruit improves this very much. This quantity makes three good-sized loaves. Bake in a moderate oven.

HAM OR TONGUE TOAST.—Cut a slice of bread rather thick, toast it and butter it well on both sides. Take a small quantity of the remainder of either ham or tongue and grate it; ready, chopped fine, two hard-boiled eggs, put both meat and eggs into a stew pan with a little butter, salt and cayenne, and make it quite hot, then spread quickly on the toasted bread, and serve immediately.

MOLASSES CANDY.—One pint white coffee sugar, one pint molasses, one tablespoonful of vinegar, one teaspoonful of butter; cook slowly a long time until it "strings" from the spoon when dipped up; pour upon a greased tin pan; then pull it until it becomes white.

SILVER CAKE.—Two cups of sugar and one-half cups of flour, one-half of butter, three-quarters of a cupful sweet milk, one-half teaspoonful of the whites of eight eggs, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar.

RAISIN CAKE.—One pound of flour, one pound of sugar, one-quarter pound of raisins, three eggs, one-half pint of cream, one teaspoonful of soda. These are baked in an earthen pot or similar vessel.

PLAIN CAKE.—One cup of sugar, one cup of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, one and a-half cups of flour, one-half cupful of cream tartar, one-half cupful of flavor with nutmeg.

PLAIN CAKE.—One cup of sugar, one cup of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, one and a-half cups of flour, one-half cupful of cream tartar, one-half cupful of flavor with nutmeg.
